“To design future networks that are worthy of society’s trust we must put the discipline of computer networking on a much stronger foundation. This book rises above the considerable minutiae of today’s networking technologies to emphasize the long-standing mathematical underpinnings of the field.” — Professor Jennifer Rexford, Department of Computer Science, Princeton University. About the Author: Srinivasan Keshav is a Professor and a Canada Research Chair at the David R. Cheriton School of Computer Science, University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada.
